

Susana Rinderle

Speaker, Author, Coach, Facilitator

Are you tired of the same “old school” messages about diversity? Me too!

Susana Rinderle, MA, ACC, is a trainer, coach, facilitator and President of Susana Rinderle Consulting, LLC. She has 25 years of professional diversity experience in multiple sectors in the U.S. and Mexico, including corporate, nonprofit, healthcare and education. She holds an M.A. in intercultural communication. Her articles and blogs have appeared online in The Huffington Post, Diversity Executive, commercial print magazines and academic journals.

Recent audiences:

- TEDxABQ
- Association for Talent Development, NM
- SHRM New Mexico
- Northern New Mexico HR Association
- Walmart
- State Bar of New Mexico

Susana Rinderle believes that people are inherently brilliant.

She presents science that shows how human diversity – plus inclusiveness – are necessary for getting the better results you care about in the workplace by allowing everyone’s brilliance to flourish!

She will enlighten and delight you with no-blame insight about the brain demonstrating how people harm and exclude others – deflating brilliance without meaning to – and provide tools to change those patterns!

“Doing Diversity” Effectively: The Real Reasons Why, and some Secrets of How”

What are recent audiences saying?

- I was so jazzed last night after this session ... and who comes away from a "mandatory diversity training" with THAT attitude!
- I really liked the more scientific approach to diversity as opposed to a lot of the old stuff that keeps being presented over and over.
- This is the first diversity training I have been to that kept people engaged and left them feeling energized instead rather than defensive or angry.
- She knew what she was talking about and had the knowledge to carry [it] over to the people in the room. She worked the room wonderfully - had everyone on their toes to see what she would bring up next. She talked with us, not to us.
